Dear Mavericks,

Welcome to a new edition of our Mavericks monthly newsletter. This letter is designed to keep you informed of everything going on in the Mavericks universe, both past, present, and future; a bit of a one-stop shop to stay informed about Mavericks.

Before diving into the content, an important reminder: this newsletter is the only email you'll receive to tell you about upcoming events or webinars, so if something grabs your attention, mark it in your calendar NOW!

To ensure you don't forget about the live webinars, here's a simple way to add them to your personal calendar (this works well with IOS and Android, and MacBooks). From the Mavericks Social platform, just click on the webinar of interest and look for the option to "Download Events ical". Click this and save it to your calendar.

We're trying to reduce the newsfeed and noise that might clutter your inbox and any important communications. If you have any comments on this, let us know at admin@mavericksproject.org.

Let's start with a doozy of a webinar tomorrow.

Repository of Past Webinars

To make it easier to browse through all the past webinar replays, we created a dedicated channel inside Mavericks Social where we linked all webinars from the recent past. You will find it next to the other groups, here. If you want to receive notifications every time we post a webinar there, simply join this group.

Furthermore, we created a YouTube channel that mirrors our self-hosted Peertube video library for all publicly available Mavericks content. You can find the channel here. If you have friends you'd like to introduce to Mavericks Project, this channel can be a great starting point.
