Money Resurgence: Building Liquid Wealth & Strategic Outposts

The old financial system has been in its death throes for years, and for the first time in more than five decades, we are witnessing the dawn of a new paradigm.

While many are consumed with questions like “When should I exit from bonds, equities, real estate... fill in the gap”, the more essential questions are: “Where to exit into?” and “Where can I find safety?”

As we stand on the precipice of a financial reset, investors realize that liquidity is as crucial as the hard assets we choose to retain for generations. Yet, paradoxically, it is liquidity that poses the greatest challenge; the conventional currencies will not provide the purchasing power we hope for in the aftermath of this crisis. Additionally, determining where to seek shelter during these times of upheaval is another pressing concern.

What Comes Next?

We’re getting together in Varna, Bulgaria between February 20-22 to reflect, share and take a fresh look at the history of Eastern Europe. The map here changed more times than we can count and yet, it is a place where the old Christian Orthodox traditions are most alive.

The focus is on purely on solutions.

No more venting, no more arguing about the problems we know far too well. This time, we direct our focus squarely on solutions.

More importantly, we won’t just talk about individual survival; but also about protecting honest businesses & entrepreneurs, safeguarding shareholders’ wealth, and protecting the employees and the wealth of future generations.

If you’re keen on learning, sharing or contributing to these solutions, join us in Varna, Bulgaria between Feb 20-22, 2026.

WHY BULGARIA?

Bulgaria stands at a historical crossroads where East meets West, with the echoes of past conflicts still shaping the future of Europe. This area has long been a pivotal battleground in the struggle between the West and East, revealing a rich history of resilience and transformation often overlooked or dismissed.

Today, Bulgaria stands as one of the last Balkan cultures to resist cultural dilution, preserving its heritage despite the global pressures and internal challenges that —as you will learn— are bravely confronted by the local people.
